A message from Rabbi Rubin

After All of the Holidays, Time for a Break? Not really!

The month of Tishri (this year mostly October) is a month full of Holy Days. Not only Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur come in that month, but also Sukkot for seven days, Shemini Atzeret and Simchat Torah. It has been this way for thousands of years with all of these days, other than Simchat Torah, going back to the Torah itself. By the end of these holidays, many people feel “yuntufed” out.

Is it time for a break? Well, the month that follows, which is Cheshvan (this year mostly November), has no Jewish Holidays – quite a contrast! However, our Judaism does not take a break.

First, the weekly Holy Day which is Shabbat comes, obviously, every week. Shabbat also goes back to our early beginnings from the Torah on. It was a radical notion in the ancient world to have a day of rest on a weekly basis. The ancient Romans accused the Jews of being a lazy people for taking a day off every week. As you can see, the Jewish notion has become the worldwide norm with some societies even taking two days off a week!

Shabbat was more than just a day off. It was, and is, a positive sacred day of holy rest. Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel taught that all week we are involved in the “world of creation” (working and making/doing things) while on Shabbat we turn things around and reflect on the “creation of the world” (God, us and our appreciation of the universe around us). Ahad Ha-am taught that as much as the Jews have kept Shabbat, Shabbat has kept the Jews. Shabbat is a gift to us!

Second, there is much to do Jewishly during the week. There are opportunities to study in our classes, to attend our weekday minyan and to engage in meaningful Jewish conversations and experiences on any day.

Third, there are some special events coming up in November and beyond. Look through this issue of the Vine (and also the weekly Highlights and the monthly Jewish community Jewish Journal newspaper in our lobby) and take advantage of the various opportunities.

A message from Mona Sternbach

I would like to thank my TBO family, and friends for all their concerns, help, prayers and love during the new adventure in my life. I had the follow up with my oncologist and will be starting an additional medication. I would love to continue to receive your support, phone calls, emails and prayers, as they keep my hopes up.

With love, Mona.

Canavan Disease Study

---

The Canavan Foundation is looking to reach families affected by Canavan disease to support a natural history study that will aid researchers seeking a treatment for this serious, often fatal disease that has disproportionately affected Jewish families. If your family has been touched by Canavan disease or if you know anyone else who has been affected, please view the video at <https://youtu.be/O1ba9Rwan0> and help spread the word.

High Holy Days 5780

Messages for the new year from Rabbi Rubin as shared on the High Holidays

Love your neighbor, the stranger and even a personal/political/commercial enemy. Respect, care for them, honor them and show them the dignity every human being deserves.

(Recommended reading: "Love Your Enemies: How Decent People Can Save America from the Culture of Contempt" by Arthur C. Brooks)

The crisis of climate change is real. Everyone has a role to play in helping to preserve our world. Let's think of more ways that we can act on this at Temple Beth Or and in our own homes.

Words matter. Our words matter. Let us be more careful about what we say and how we say it.

We are all fragile as human beings, whether our lives are long or short. May we dedicate ourselves to be better "selves," particularly in the memory and inspiration of those who have come before us.

Mazal Tov and Yasher Koach

to Jordan Solkowitz and Sandi Silber who were honored on Simchat Torah morning with the special aliyot of Chatan
Torah (the concluding aliyah of the Torah) and Kallat Beresheet (the opening aliyah of the Torah) respectively.

The Ritual Committee wants your feedback about any aspects of the Holidays this year. Send your comments to Rabbi Rubin at RBobRubin@gmail.com who is compiling them to be presented anonymously to the Ritual Committee. You may also submit them in print without your name to Rabbi Rubin's attention. Your response is needed by November 15 for the Ritual Committee's review.

Misheberach Prayer

When someone near and dear to us is ill, a spiritual uplift can be very meaningful. This is done in Jewish tradition by reciting a "Misheberach" prayer on the days we take out the Torah.

If you would like a Misheberach said and are not able to attend the service, please call Temple Beth Or office or email us.

We need the person's Hebrew name and the mother's Hebrew name, so that a prayer will be done for you.

TBO Members - $100.00

Non-members - $150.00

If the event is held as part of the Saturday morning Shabbat service, it is expected that the Kiddush following the service will be sponsored in honor of the occasion.

Funeral (use of Sanctuary)

The Rabbi does not have to be the officiant.

TBO Members - No Charge

For a Kaddish relative of a TBO Member (parent, spouse, sibling, child) - No Charge

For a Non-member - $550.00 (to be billed to the funeral director)

Following the funeral, if appropriate, a surviving relative is to be offered a one year courtesy membership or a $550 credit to a higher priced membership with the welcome invitation to come here to attend services and to say Kaddish.

Kaddish Recitation

A TBO member or a Kaddish relative of a TBO member who dies is to be remembered and automatically placed on the 11-month Mourner's List which is read at the time of the recitation of the Mourner's Kaddish at the end of Shabbat services on Friday nights and Saturday mornings. There is no required donation for this. A request may be made to add a non-member to the Mourner's List and have them remembered and included at the time of the recitation of the Mourner's Kaddish at the end of Shabbat services on Friday nights and Saturday mornings. A $300 donation is requested for this.
